Community Supported Agriculture (CSA), an arrangement whereby customers pay growers in advance of the growing season for a guaranteed share of the season's harvest.

Background: In summer 2015 we investigated prices that farm operations advertised on websites and producer association listings. Our goal was to have a better understanding of prices that farmers were charging for a standard summer vegetable share. This is the fourth year we have collected CSA pricing data, so we are able to track how pricing has changed, and also make county comparisons. Below is a summary of our findings, as well as a full list of the 89 CSAs and their prices that were included in the study.

SUMMARY

We found CSA pricing data for 89 farm operations. Standard summer vegetable shares were typically listed as July to October, featuring vegetables, herbs, and sometimes flowers or small fruit. We did not attempt to compare the contents of CSA shares, nor did we evaluate pricing for add-ons items such as flower shares, fruit shares, meat shares, egg shares, etc. when a range of weeks was promised for a given CSA share price (i.e 16-18 weeks), the average number was used (i.e. 17 weeks).

In response to producer inquiries, we also looked at pricing for CSA share prices at farms that advertised as USDA Certified Organic, Certified Naturally Grown, and CT NOFA Pledge. We found the CSA share price average rose only slightly, based on 41 farm operations.

Average weekly price of 2015 Summer Vegetable CSA = $30

Max price = $50; Min price = $14

Average weekly price for USDA Organic, Certified Naturally Grown, and CT NOFA Pledge = $32
